

The January 26 PTO meeting began with the Pledge of Allegiance lead by Joanne Polfus at 3:43pm All officers were in attendance. The treasurer's report was presented by Susan Jackson and we have $7320. We want to use some funds to help the school and Susan will create a teacher request form so we can accurately track donations given. The minutes from the December 13 meeting were read by Laura Haddock.

In old business we will pick a date for our October craft show at our April meeting. We have tabled the Senior all night party for this year but want to invite Terri Sivula to chair the event for next year. We also discussed our recent Carney gear fundraiser and we earned about $300. We want to look for a vendor that will make the shirts right at the school and sell them for special events such as tournaments.

*In new business, Kelly Janofski has been asked by a few parents if we are going to do Floride again. We will send a letter home asking for volunteers to run the program.

*Angie Williams our head cook let Laura know that their grant for the monthly food boxes is about out and she was wondering if anyone would want to do a fundraiser for her. We talked about doing a food drive and having a donation jar at the concession stand to help support this program.

*It is time to send in our contract with Santa Secret Shop if we want to work with them again for the 2017 holiday season. We decided to research the Penguin Patch before sending in our contract. Laura will report her findings at our next meeting in 2 weeks

*March is reading month is quickly approaching. We picked two dates for our book munchers lunch-March 2 and 16. We want to find a "famous" guest reader and will ask our football coaches to see if they can get a Green Bay packer player to come. We also thought about bringing in therapy dogs for the kids to read to and setting up tents and using flashlights to read. We want to have dress up days based on books and possibly a read a thon. Our goal is to get ALL the kids reading Y4-12th grade. There are only 18 days of school in March.

Laura had to leave at 5pm and the meeting was wrapping up but not adjourned when she left. The next PTO meeting is February 9, 2017.

Respectfully submitted,

Laura Haddock, Secretary
